

Best Practice I

1. Title of the Practice: “Flag Hoisting by the college student’s disabled parents”

2. Goals:

1. To make the college society oriented
2. To honor the last man of the society.
3. To create respect in students about their disabled parents.
4. To make students aware about their parents devotion.
5. To boost self confidence among the people who are disabled.
6. To create idealism among students.

3. The Context:

Our honorable Principal Dr. Subhash S. Gawai joined the college on 21 of June 2017. He is a very idealistic and visionary person. From 16th year of his age he has been attached with the organizations which work for the welfare of disable persons. He thought that every man in this universe has the same right of respect and honor. So he decided to hoist flag by the students’ parents who are disabled and fighting strongly against the various difficulties of life to learn wards.

4. The Practice:

The college has initiated an excellent idea of Flag Hoisting by the college student’s parents who are handicapped, dumb, blind, farm labour and hard worker on the occasion of Independence Day and Republic Day.

It is one of the best and most regular activities of the college. It is an innovative idea. In order to implement this idea the college took survey of enrolled students and collected students’ personal information. On the basis of collected information and knowing the background, the college staff council sorted out the students who are very poor and have disabled parents. Then the Principal and some teachers visited the family at their village. During the visits and discussions held with student’s parents it is realized that the parents who are disabled, economically very poor, educationally backward do work hard for learning their wards. They earnestly want to learn their children at any cost. Such families are ideal for the society. Their idealism should be brought out so that the college students may learn something. Such parents should be respected and honored. So, the college invited college student’s parents for flag hoisting who are disabled. The parents are provided new clothes (white Pajama and Kurta and Sari) to wear on the occasion of flag hoisting. Traveling facility is made available by the college. With due to full respect and honor, flag hoisting is performed by the hand of disabled parents and the students who have ranked in examinations and various activities are also felicitated by them.

5. Evidence of Success:

“Flag Hoisting by the college student’s disabled parents” helped to....
